

Help is at hand in Wolverhampton

Feeling overwhelmed, or that your life isn't worth living?

If you have already taken steps to end your life or you feel unable to stay safe:

 Call 999 for an ambulance

 Go to A&E (the nearest hospital with an Accident & Emergency department)

If you have made any plans to harm yourself, please think what you can do to make your situation safer.

Helplines

SAMARITANS

 116 123
call FREE 24/7

 samaritans.org

 54 Newhampton
Road West
WV6 0RU

 PAPYRUS
PREVENTION OF YOUNG SUICIDE

 0800 068 4141

 Text 07860 039 967

 papyrus-uk.org

Feeling overwhelmed, or that your life is not worth living?

These thoughts can occur to anyone.

You need to know that the intensity of these thoughts, and the emotional and physical pain that comes with them will pass.

How can you cope right now?

- Make a safety plan – to find out how go to www.stayingsafe.net
- Hold something warm or cold – notice how it feels
- Don't put yourself under pressure by thinking too far ahead – focus on today
- Avoid drinking alcohol or taking substances when feeling low
- Make a worry list. Which worries can you reduce? Which will you need support with? Start an action plan
- Plan something calming which you can look forward to soon
- Be around other people – see if you can make someone smile
- Whatever you're going through, you can call or text someone 24/7 FREE from any phone – see Helplines overleaf

Help is at hand in Wolverhampton